CANADIAN/QUEBEC OPEN (Montreal, July 19-27)

Partly as a result of the celebrations of Quebec's quadricentennial, both the Canadian Open and the CYCC were awarded to cities in La belle Provence. The Canadian Open was combined with another traditional July event, the Quebec Open, producing a five section, nine-round tournament which attracted three hundred and twenty-five participants. Overall a little weaker than the previous two Canadian Opens in Ottawa and Kitchener, the event still boasted seventeen grandmasters and ten international masters (it should be noted on the standings link below that the titles given are gender neutral, despite the fact that some of them are "female" titles). First place in the Open Section was shared between GMs Alexander Moiseenko (Ukraine), Eduardas Rozentalis (Lithuania), Victor Mikhalevski (Israel), and IM Matthieu Cornette (France) with 6.5/9, ahead of GMs Abhijit Kunte (India) and Anton Kovalyov (Argentina/Canada) and IM M.R. Venkatesh (India) on 6.0. B.C. participation was sparse in comparison with recent Opens, and was limited to FM Bindi Cheng (Open, 4.0), Jack Cheng (no relation, U2400, 2.5), and Hector Rathburn-Mackay (U1400, 5.0), along with former residents FM Jack Yoos (Open, 4.5) and Louie Jiang (Open 3.5) - apologies if I've overlooked anyone.

CYCC (Quebec City, July 14-17)

Quebec City was the site for this year's CYCC, the youth chess championships by age category and gender. Seventeen B.C. players took part in the (mostly) seven-round event, and our qualifiers for the upcoming World competition in Vietnam are: Jonah Lee (U8B), Changhe Li and Tanraj Sohal (U12B), Jack Cheng (U14B), and Tse Ning Cheung (U14G).

Congratulations to the winners and all the participants.

WYCC 2008 (Canada Team) Blog (from Glen Lee)

<http://wycc2008canada.blogspot.com>

A blog has been created for the members of the official team that will represent Canada at the WYCC (2008) in Vung Tau, Vietnam. Please feel free to post, exchange ideas, ask questions, provide information, and keep up to date. The Canadian National Team is also seeking funding for players who wish to participate. Donations are most welcome and information will be detailed in the blog.

MEDICINA 2008 (May 16-23)

Timisoara, Romania was the site of a six-player double round robin in May which included Dr. Valerian Adam of Prince George. No other information or games have come to light other than the FIDE rating report, and since FIDE does not rate unplayed games, the result of the presumed last-round forfeit between players 4 and 6 is unknown. However, one assumes from the crosstable that the affair was rather peaceable - with the exception of the visiting Canadian, who was involved in all the decisive games.

CFC NEWS

The CFC AGM was held in Montreal on July 21-22 during the Canadian Open, and the new executive is:

David Lavin, President
 Stijn DeKerpel, Vice President
 Lyle Craver, Secretary
 Chris Mallon, Treasurer
 Ellen Nadeau, Youth Coordinator
 Michael Barron, FIDE Rep
 Hal Bond, Past President

News from the sessions is sketchy, but the fate of the CFC's magazine, Chess Canada, has apparently been decided:

"It is with regrets that I must inform the membership the printed version of Chess Canada magazine has been discontinued. For those that have been following developments at the CFC, this will not come as a surprise. Issue 2008-1 (Feb) was the last printed magazine. Issue 2008-2 due in May 2008 never made it to print.

We are working to replace the printed magazine with an online version. The printing and delivery costs became prohibitively expensive with our small membership base. Online magazines appear to be the trend, more affordable and quicker updates.

The online version is not ready yet. We will keep you posted on our progress." [Robert Gillanders, the CFC ED, in the News section of the CFC website.

How the problems at the CFC will be tackled in the upcoming months remains to be seen, but for those unfamiliar with our new president, the following is part of a letter Mr. Lavin sent to the governors as part of the run-up to the CFC elections.

Who is David Lavin

I started playing chess in 1972 at age 14 and was once, very briefly, the youngest chess master in the country. My greatest success was winning a weekend Swiss in London, UK, tied with Murray Chandler, defeating Glenn Flear and others. I also represented Canada in two World under 27 Olympics. My favourite game is my victory over

Lawrence Day in the Toronto Closed in 1978. In the early '80's I organized many of the largest and strongest tournaments in Toronto. I was the distributor of NOVAG chess computers in Canada and was Batsford's largest Canadian customer, out-selling the CFC long before the CMA appeared on the scene. On or around 1984 I sold my chess business to Hal Bond.

In 1985 I became a promoter of live events and in 1988 I started The Lavin Agency. We are now one of the largest agencies of its kind in the world, programming keynote speakers for over 1500 conferences worldwide. My clients include some of the world's most recognized names and faces. The CFC's annual revenues and fixed assets total about two days sales of The Lavin Agency. I believe that the CFC's problems must have a reasonable solution.

What I hope to accomplish:

I've read a number of presidential platforms, comments on chesstalk, and I've had a number of conversations with active members of the CFC. I don't think the CFC needs another platform based on tripling membership, doubling revenues, or some other pie-in-the-sky dream. The CFC is in a financial and management crisis. It needs a plan to emerge from this crisis and it needs leadership to execute the plan.

I'm not going to make any promises about what I will accomplish. I will introduce a process by which we can design and implement a practical business plan that will reflect the actual financial circumstances of the CFC. As well, I will present a fairly radical business plan that fundamentally restructures the CFC. I will present both of these plans to the Governors within one month of being elected. I will suggest two weeks of discussion, including establishing at least one conference call between the executive and the governors at my expense. Open communication is key to accomplishing anything meaningful in a short period of time.

The Business Plan

I intend to gather as much financial information as possible as quickly. I also intend to speak to as many organizers across the country as is practical. I think its important to ask local organizers what they need from the CFC, not what the CFC needs from them. Chess is going to grow because of committed people on the front lines, not bureaucrats like me. I also need to understand how the CFC got into this financial crisis for the purpose of understanding how decisions got made -- or not made -- and how programs were implemented. I'm not particularly interested in a witch hunt or looking for someone to blame.

The business plan will be fairly short but it will not be a fait accompli. Both documents will be discussion documents. The ideas and observations of dedicated members of the CFC can only make it a better document.

Implementation

I believe I have a reputation for getting things done quickly, efficiently, under-budget, and with relatively few bruised egos and broken bones. I see no reason why the implementation of the plan cannot start within days of the final decision, with all the bricks in place by mid to late September. The key though, is sustainability. The plan has to be implemented in a way that ensures that it is sustainable for the long term.

EVENTS

This weekend sees tournaments happening across the country. The Edmonton International <http://ecf2008.com/players> will include Bindi Cheng and Ben Daswani, while Paul Leblanc is registered to play in Kitchener, Ontario - <http://www.chessfest.ca/>. Live coverage should be available from both events. Closer to home hopefully many of you will take the opportunity to participate in the 3rd Rod Planas Memorial in Kelowna <http://chess.bc.ca/events3.html#Planas>. Next week a new event begins in Richmond:
