HERE AND THERE

Canadian Open (July 11-19)

Returning to Edmonton for the sixth time in forty-six events, the Canadian Open has attracted just over two hundred entrants, including nine grandmasters: Alexei Shirov, Hua Ni, Michael Adams, Surya Ganguly, Victor Mikhalevski, Eugene Perelshtyn, Anton Kovalyov, Mark Bluvshstein, and Xue Zhao. After five of the nine rounds there is a log jam at the top with nine players tied on 4.5: GMs Shirov, Ni, Adams, Ganguly, Mikhalevski, Bluvshstein, IM Edward Porper, and FMs Vladimir Pechenkin and Theo Hommeles. Currently the top B.C. player is FM Ian MacKay, tied with fifteen others a half point back; additional B.C. leaders include FM Jack Yoos, Lucas Davies, and Edward Tang (all 3.5), and IM Leon Piasetski, Ben Daswani, Tanraj Sohal, Vlad Gaciu, Richard Huang, and Dezheng Kong (all 3.0).

All aspects of internet coverage, including pairings, standings, games, and photos, are being handled by Monroi - www.ed.chess.ca is the tournament-specific address. Some of these materials are finding their way to the Chessbase site; to date there have been two reports:

<http://www.chessbase.com/newsdetail.asp?newsid=5580>

<http://www.chessbase.com/newsdetail.asp?newsid=5585>

Apart from allowing access to a PGN file which includes all the available games, Chessbase has also commissioned GM Alexander Shabalov to write annotations for the top five or six games from each round. Approximately thirty games are being broadcast live each round by Monroi, generally from the top boards. Unfortunately this means the opposition is strong, so of the dozen games by B.C. players which are currently available most are in a losing cause.

First Saturday (July 4-14)

Michael Yip has again played in a First Saturday tournament in Budapest, his fifth in the last six months. Unfortunately this seems to have coincided with a bout of poor form - he placed ninth in the eleven-player round robin. The FM-A section was won by Dutchman Yorick Ten Hagen with 8.5, followed by Melissa Greeff (South Africa) and Kristof Koczko (Hungary) on 7.0.

World Open (June 29 - July 5)

Two former Canadian Junior Champions, Leonid Gerzhoy of Ontario and B.C.'s Bindi Cheng, managed to achieve coveted norms: Gerzhoy scored 5.5/9 for a GM norm (and a share of the U2500 prizes, worth $1,000), while Cheng's 5.0 score allowed him to notch his second IM norm (the first was at the 2007 Canadian Open in Ottawa):

=	GM Ilya Smirin	ISR	2641
+	Leonardo Campiz	PUR	2082
-	GM Alexander Stripunsky	USA	2556
+	Michael Thaler	USA	2238
=	GM Eugen Perelshteyn	USA	2543
=	GM Jesse Kraai	USA	2488
-	GM Joshua Ed Friedel	USA	2516
=	FM Ali Morshedi	USA	2347
+	FM Dov Gorman	USA	2289

5.0			2411

Five points was exactly the score required given the average rating of Bindi's opponents. The title will be his after a third norm, assuming that his FIDE rating has been over 2400 at some point. Congratulations! Also scoring an IM norm was FM Michael Lee of Washington state. Other B.C. players playing in the tournament were Sean McLaren (Open Section) and Richard Huang (U2000 Section)

RUBINSTEIN RULE

As previously reported in these columns, the new FIDE Laws of Chess come into effect today, July 1st. The most controversial change has been the elimination of the so-called Rubinstein rule (the 60 minutes that late players had to arrive at the chessboard), now replaced with a zero-tolerance default, albeit one that can be altered by individual events. The BCCF executive recently voted to retain the traditional Rubinstein rule via the following motion:

Motion: that regular time control events in the province of British Columbia retain a 60 minute default period for the late arrival of players, an option provided for under article 6.7 of the FIDE Laws of Chess, unless the rules of the competition specify otherwise. In a blitz or active event the default period shall be the time control unless the rules of the competition specify otherwise.

Thus for B.C. tournaments, the late arrival grace period is still one hour by default. However, it should be noted that individual competitions are free to adopt the zero-tolerance policy or another default of their own choosing if they so wish - check the tournament announcement or information of the event you are entering for clarification.
