NAYCC (August 16-19)

As reported last issue, the North American Youth Chess Championships were recently held in Montreal, the first time the event has been staged in Canada. Five B.C. players participated, and two of them, Tanraj Sohal (U14) and Michael Su (U8), won trophies for placing fourth and fifth in their respective section (trophies were awarded to the top five finishers in each group).

SINUS OPEN 'B' RR (Budapest, August 14-22) by Michael Yip

The SINUS Consulting Company sponsored a couple of round robins of which I played in the B group. The A group featured GM Sergei Kasparov and was an IM norm tournament. Kristof Jurhaz(2260), formerly of Vancouver, got an IM-norm in the A group with 6.0/9. The winner of the B group, Adam Kormos (HUN) finished with 7.5/9 and is eligible to play in next year's A group. I shared second place with Tatiana Kasparova (BUL) with 5.5/9.

The event was held in the SINUS office conference room with luxurious air conditioning, good lighting and snacks provided at the opening ceremony. The SINUS company also sponsors a team in the Hungarian team championships.

For this tournament I switched to the Reti opening with white after spending a couple of weeks looking through Starting Out With the Reti but this proved insufficient for me to get decent positions. I struggled out of the opening with both colours and in most games had to defend horrible positions. However, luck and stubbornness helped me a lot and with some resourceful defence, I managed to score some important points.

All in all, this tournament was a treat to play in (and very reasonably priced-C$24).

Varying from the Reti and returning to the English opening. 1.c4 e6 2.Nf3 f5 3.d4!? There is no need to stick to the English Opening when White can choose normal d4 play against the Dutch as Black will voluntarily make some kind of structural concession in the main lines. This is most obvious in the Stonewall formation. 3...c6 4.g3 d5 5.b3 Nf6 6.Bg2 Bd6 7.0-0 0-0?! A strategic blunder. Black should not be willing to allow the trade of dark bishops so easily. 7...Qe7, holding up the Ba3 idea to preserve dark bishops is normal and best. 8.Ba3! Bxa3 9.Nxa3 Qe7 10.Nc2 White chooses to play out a normal middlegame and immediately returns the offside knight to the primary task of fighting for e5. Colin Aykroyd wrote:

"Yielding only two draws in eleven games, grandmaster Abe Yanofsky of Winnipeg once again demonstrated that he has no peer in Canadian Chess. At no time was Yanofsky's superiority really threatened during the twelve day tournament at International House, U.B.C. in Vancouver and he had little difficulty in dispatching his two main rivals, Lionel Joyner of Edmonton and Duncan Suttles of Vancouver, in their individual games. It seems unlikely at present that either Yanofsky or Joyner will be able to represent Canada in the Interzonal and Suttles' participation may depend on his showing in the World Junior Championship in Barcelona in August.

After a shaky start which included his only loss (to Yanofsky) and a draw with Mark Schulman, Joyner settled down to produce some really fine chess which included consecutive victories over Macskasy, Vaitonis, and Suttles. His elegant but solid style contrasted with Suttles' "power chess" which made a shambles of the lower half of the scoretable in the early rounds. Many of these short encounters ended abruptly in less than two hours play as Suttles' favourite Robatsch Defence cut a devastating swathe. (This was by far the most popular in the tournament with 19 of 66 games opening with 1...g6!) Superficial play in a sharp position enabled Joyner to mount a successful defence against Suttles' gambit attack while Yanofsky's counterattack from a Caro-Kann Defence soon became irresistible after an early inaccuracy by Suttles.

Lapses against Ron Leonard of Edmonton and Paul Vaitonis prevented Dr. Macskasy from reaching a higher place. Positional skill and technique are still in evidence in his games but a lack of sharpness, and uncertainty in time-pressure situations proved costly. Mark Schulman's tie with Macskasy after his fifteenth place finish in the '63 Closed was one of the features of the tournament which augur well for the future of Canadian chess. He displayed a solid, fighting style which was best exemplified in his 82-move draw with Joyner from an inferior position.

Of the other players, Ray Kerr of Powell River showed a tough style but was inclined to concede the draw in situations where a little patience might have produced a full point. Former champion Paul Vaitonis played below his former form and only a crafty resourcefulness, especially during his frequent time-scrambles, enabled him to finish as high as he did.

Potter played quite enterprisingly, though handicapped by working during the tournament. Young Ron Leonard also played well, but threw away some well played games, a defect which experience will probably correct.

Litwinczuk (playing against his doctor's advice), Kaltenecker, and Veszely were all making their first appearance in a Canadian Closed. In general they were not able to keep pace with the big guns, although Veszely did extend Yanofsky to 72 moves.

Although not as strong as some previous Championships, the quality of play in this year's event was generally high, and Canada's prospects in the 1966 Chess Olympics in Cuba seem most promising. Perhaps grandmaster Yanofsky can soften up some of the opposition when he attends the Capablanca Memorial Tournament in Havana in September!" [Canadian Chess Chat, July 1965]
