Philadelphia Open (April 4-8)

Last year at tis time Dezheng Kong was competing in the grade six section of the B.C. Chess Challenge; this year he played in a slightly stronger event, the Philadelphia Open. Among the eighty players in the Open Section were fourteen GMs; GM Magesh Panchanathan of India was the overall winner with 7.0/9, while his fellow title-holders Akobian, Erenburg, Hammer, Shankland, Stripunsky, Bachmann and Kekelidze tied for second. Dezheng finished with 50%, including draws against IMs Mauricio Santana and Jay Bonin. Top Canadian was Leonid Gerzhoy, who is seeking GM norms these days and therefore was likely not happy with his total of 5.0 points, just outside the money prizes - he didn't play the last round. San Sebastian International Open (March 31 - April 7)

San Sebastian, Spain (or Donostia in the Basque language) was the site of two important tournaments in 1911 and 1912, won by Capablanca and Rubinstein respectively, but for the past thirty-four years has been the location of an open tournament. This year's edition attracted 159 players; the top seed was Canadian GM Kevin Spraggett (a long-time resident of Portugal), while Igor Rausis and Oleg Romanishin were other well-known names in the field. In the end Rausis took the top prize with 7.5/9, while Spraggett was part of a six-way tie for second. Also participating, for the third year in a row, was B.C. IM Leon Piasetski, who finished with 5.5 points.

6th ANNUAL GRAND PACIFIC OPEN (April 6-9)

Another record attendance at the Grand Pacific Open to go with this year's record guaranteed prize fund of $5000. 120 entries flew by last year's record of 104 with players from five countries, seven states, and three provinces. An added attraction was the participation of GM Hikaru Nakamura, sixth ranked in the world. It is not common for a weekend tournament such as the GPO to have such a high profile name - this was a rare opportunity for BC players to see one of the best in the world in person in action. As always, there were a number of side events starting with the BC Chess Challenge with 174 players and a four round Active for the adults. The traditional midnight blitz tournament was held on Saturday and a bughouse event closed out the tournament. The location was the superb Hotel Grand Pacific situated in downtown Victoria on the waterfront, next to the BC legislature. Next year's event is already booked for Easter 2013, March 29-April 1.

Make your plans now! More details will be forthcoming soon on this website, www.grandpacificopen.com.

B.C. CHESS CHALLENGE

The Chess Challenge finals, normally the largest junior event of the year in these parts, was held at the Grand Pacific Open in Victoria on April 6, just before the start of the GPO. One hundred and seventy-four players from all over the province competed in grade sections to determine who will represent B.C. at the National Chess Challenge, coming up in Halifax on the May long weekend. Perhaps because the nationals are being held so far away the competition in some grades was not quite as stiff as usual, although all the sections were hard fought.

An event like this could not happen without dedicated organizers and volunteers, notably Brian Raymer and Howard Wu but also many others - a big thank you to these and all the other helpers who ensured the event ran so smoothly. From the Vancouver Daily World:

"A few days ago the Victoria Chess Club sent an invitation to the Vancouver Chess Club suggesting a friendly match during the Victoria Day celebrations. The members of the Vancouver club being unable to go to Victoria in sufficient numbers proposed a match by telegraph, and the C.P.R. promptly offered to place their wires gratuitously at the disposal of the clubs. The ever-obliging manager, W. Christie, presided over the operations at the Victoria end, and E. Haughton handled deftly the work. A splendid service was given, and the company is to be congratulated upon the skillful handling of the complicated work of transmitting the hieroglyphics of chess notation.

The players faced each other as follows:

The captains of each team, Messrs. Cameron and Marchant, played at board No. 2. T.H. Piper, who is acknowledged to be the strongest player in the West, and possibly in Canada, officiated as umpire. Messrs. Perry, Lombard and Benson were scorers and timekeepers.

The first blood fell to Victoria. Mr. Marchant defeated the rival captain in twenty-two moves at 11:58, Mr. Cameron resigning at the threatened loss of his queen.

The second game fell to Vancouver, Captain Clarke resigning at the thirty-fourth move at 12:30 a.m.

The third game was won by A. Gonnason, of the Victoria team, who secured a well-earned victory at the twenty-ninth move.

The fourth game also was gathered in by Victoria, Captain Michel winning on the thirty-eighth move.

At two o'clock the Victoria captain suggested that the two umpires adjudicate upon the two remaining games. This however, was not accepted, the answer coming "play it out."

At the forty-seventh move at board No. 3 the Victoria player, Mr. Myer, offered a draw, but the Vancouver player preferred to play on a little longer, and announced his move. This game, however, was finally declared drawn.

Considerable interest was shown in the game at board No. 1. The Vancouver player, B. Hurst, very early in the game developed a strong attack, which was warded off successfully by his astute and experienced opponent, who safely [e]merged out of the opening moves with a pawn to his credit, and a good safe position. Becoming, however, very weary of the prolonged conflict he permitted the establishment of his opponent's rook at a strong strategical point, and finally succumbed to his younger and vigorous opponent. It was a fine exhibition of chess, and players are invited to visit the club rooms where the whole of the games as recorded may be seen.

Mr. Schmerl acted as umpire at Vancouver. It is hoped that the friendly contest will become an annual event. Mr. Harrison very readily placed the spacious rooms of the Driard at the disposal of the tournament players and visitors, and endeavored to make the players as welcome as possible. The net results of the game[s] are as follows:

Victoria	+3 =1	3.5
Vancouver	+2 =1	2.5

The tournament thus terminated in a win for Victoria."
