RECENT NEWS

March Open (March 9-11)

Held at the Vancouver Chess Centre on a rainy weekend, this five-round Swiss attracted a lower than expected field of only fifteen players but was nevertheless competitive, with ambitious juniors taking on more-experienced older players. In this case the juniors, with a little luck, came out on top: Arie Milner took first place with 4.5/5, a full point ahead of Chang He Li and Yiming Han, who tied for the second and U1800 prizes.

Another Recent Game (submitted by Nick Beqo)

Jon, Byl - Nick, Beqo [A40] Langley vs. Port Coquitlam Team Match, 01.03.2007
[Beqo]

1.d4 a6 2.Bf4 Normally, the bishop is developed after the knight. 2...c6 Here is another game with "my own opening", this time against 1.d4. I say "my own opening," because I have not found yet any game played with this move order. 3.Nf3 Nf6 4.e3 d6! This move is an antidote to Bf4. In our previous encounter, I played 4...d5 and after 5.h3 the bishop was powerful. Although I managed to exchange the dark-squared bishops and the final position was drawn, I blundered and lost. I was very tired that day (he, he, it sounds as an excuse). However, my opponent played very well, and I was surprised, because I had not heard of the guy. Dwayne [Angelvette] was there, and after the game he told me that Jon Byl used to beat Suttles. I asked Jon about his chess career and he told me that he used to play 25 years ago. Another alternative is 4...Nh5. 5.h3 g6 5...Qb6!? 6.Nbd2 Bg7 7.Bd3 Nbd7 8.0-0 0-0 9.Bh2 Re8 10.Re1 e5 11.dxe5 dxe5 12.e4 b5 I am happy with my opening. 13.a4 Bb7 14.axb5 axb5 15.Rxa8 Qxa8 16.Qa1 Nh5 According to Fritz10 the position is equal. 17.Nb3 Nf4 18.Rd1?! 18.Bf1. 18...Qxa1?! 18...Nxd3 19.Qxa8 Rxa8 20.Rxd3 Nc5!-/+ 19.Rxa1 Ra8 Better is 19...Nxd3 20.cxd3 Ra8-/+ 20.Rxa8+ Bxa8 21.Bxf4 exf4 22.c3 22.Nbd4 22...b4?! 22...Nb6-/+ 23.cxb4 Bxb2 24.Nfd2 Bc3 25.b5 Bxd2?! Black has a little advantage due to the pair of bishops. It looks like my last move wins a pawn, but in fact it gives that little advantage away. 25...Ne5=/+ 26.Nxd2 Nc5 27.Be2? 27.bxc6 Nxd3 28.c7 Bb7 29.Nc4 Ba6 30.Nd6 Kg7 31.c8Q Bxc8 32.Nxc8 Kf6. 27...cxb5 28.Bxb5 Bxe4 Although Fritz will take with the knight, I was trained that when the pawns are on one side of the board, the knight is better than the bishop. In this position Black is a pawn up and eventually won the game. 0-1

Team championship results: <http://www.chessmastery.com/teamresults.html>

[While the 1...a6, 2...c6 move order might have the advantage of confusing White, it doesn't seem to constitute an independant system in the same way that Michael Basman's 1...a6, 2...b5 (St. George) or 1...g5, 2...h6 (borG) do - editor.]

VANCOUVER - WINNIPEG TELEGRAPH MATCH 1927

Eighty years ago, teams from Vancouver and Winnipeg engaged in a telegraph match on January 1st, 1927. The two cities had contested a previous match just over two years earlier (December 13, 1924), with the Vancouver squad victorious by a 7-3 score (see <http://www3.telus.net/public/swright2/vanwin.html>). That match had involved a team chosen by the Winnipeg and District Chess League; information is scant, but it appears the Vancouver team had been requesting a second match, whereas the Winnipeg League was unwilling or unable to provide one. The match went ahead on New Year's Day, 1927, but with a Winnipeg team apparently not authorized by the league. This elicited the following sharply-worded comments in the Manitoba Free Press chess column of that day:

"We cannot imagine that the private telegraph match that is scheduled to take place today will give Vancouver much satisfaction, as they have been anxious to play a Winnipeg team under the direction of the District League the same as they did two years ago. The team as drawn up to play today has only one player in it that played them before, and does not include the city champion or runners-up, and only one player amongst the first seven of the contestants in last year's Northwest tournament. Considering this, it will be poor satisfaction to win from such a team and a disgrace if it so happened that the British Columbia team should lose."

This tone is in stark contrast to the words offered by the Winnipeg secretary after the 1924 match: "We offer no excuses. We were properly beaten and met our Waterloo. In the meantime we have gained, I trust, some valuable information regarding the chessmanship of the Vancouver Club and found out what a lot of good fellows they are."

In the event Vancouver was again victorious, although by a smaller percentage score:

"Members of the Vancouver Chess Club again demonstrated their prowess at the royal game when they defeated the Wednesday Night Club of Winnipeg in a telegraph team match New Year's Day. The score was 7 1/2 to 4 1/2. The twelve players representing the local club were seated in The Province sports room and were in direct telegraphic communication with the studio in which the Winnipeg team was playing. Play was continued for ten hours, after which three boards, 2, 9 and 10, were still in progress. Draws were agreed upon on boards 2 and 9, while a win was conceded Alexander on board 10.

Prior to the commencement of play ex-President J.A. Murchison presented prizes to the winners of last year's tournaments.

The final summary is as follows:

1 H. Butler	=	H.H. Burrell (ex-western champion)
2 R.A. Scott	=	E.S. Lancashire (western champion)
3 A. Stevenson	1-0	Prof. Cross

4	C.F. Millar	1-0	J. Windmeyer
5	H. Jenkins	=	J.H. Irwin
6	F. Calhoun	1-0	Prof. Garfinkle
7	J. Nickel	0-1	F. Atnikov
8	V. Colle	=	N.H. Wallbank
9	A. Hammond	=	A.W. Luyendyk
10	J. Alexander	1-0	T.F. Speedy
11	J. Taylor	=	J. Kushine
12	O.A. Hawes	=	F. Djecobenes

[Vancouver Daily Province, January 9, 1927]

The Vancouver team was composed entirely of members of the Vancouver Chess Club, whereas in 1924 the team had also included three players from the North Vancouver Club. Notable is Vancouver's board 11 player: this is the first appearance of Jack Taylor's name in print. (The following year he was described as "a promising young player" when he won an intermediate event at the club.) On the Winnipeg side both Burrell and Atnikov emigrated to Vancouver in later life.
